REPORT OF THE COUNTY EXECUTIVE

The County Executive, M. Lynn Lemon reported on the following items:

COUNCIL MEETING MINUTES 08/25/98

- 1. Film Commission, Northern Utah: The funding for the Northern Utah Film Commission, which has recently been created, was questioned during the last Council meeting. Lemon told the Council that he has been told that funding is a pass through process from the State and will not affect the County or Chamber budgets.
- 2. Courts Building Meeting: Lemon, has met with the Standing Committee on Facility on Planning, regarding Court System priority. The Committee is proposing programing funds for 1999 and land acquisition and constructing in the year 2000. Lemon said, that if that is the case, we may be able to do something with this building in 2001. Lemon will continue to meet with them and he will continue to keep the Council updated on the matter. A meeting with the Judges and State Legislators is next week to see if they can help in the process.
- 3. Road Transfer Jurisdiction: A meeting with the State, regarding a proposal to transfer certain highways to Cities and Counties, was attended by Executive Lemon, in Provo. The majority of those who attended from other Cities and Counties were not in favor of any highway transfer. In fact some said that if the State does transfer the roads to them, they may just abandon the roads.
- 4. State Sheriff's Meeting: On September 24th a meeting with other County Sheriff's in the State will be held. They will be discussing future jail house needs. Council members have been invited to attend the meeting. Lemon, said that he encouraged the meeting to see if some kind of analyzes, of what future needs are and how those needs can be accomplished.
- 5. Smart Map System: Contracts have been signed and the system will be working in October. The GIS system will need to continue and funding is available from the Assessor's assessing and collecting fund. The Council was in favor of using those funds to continue with GIS.
- 6. Warrants: The warrants for the periods of August 7 through August 11 and August 12 through August 21, 1998 were presented to the County Clerk for filing.

AGING PROGRAM UPDATE: CAZIER, MARCEE

The Director of the Senior Citizen Center, Marcee Cazier appeared before the Council to update them on that organization's activities. Cazier, gave out a number of pamphlets giving information on the different programs that they have at the Center. The Center relies on a large number of volunteers who have contributed nearly eleven thousand hours saving $56,000.00 at the minium wage rate. They presently are delivering 155 meals a day through the meal's on-wheel's program. A new delivery truck has been acquired and they are delivering every week day now. The change in age population was discussed. During the ten-year period of 1980 to 1990 there has been a 14% increase in people over the age of 65. Cazier said that they are going to increase the number of transportation vans to three and they will need additional volunteer drivers. The front office is going to be remodeled costing around $9,000.00. Cazier said that the time is coming when the County will have to budget more money for the Center. The Philosophy and Definition of the Center were reviewed by Cazier.

The Council thanked Cazier for the report and update and wished her continued success.

DRUG & ALCOHOL PROGRAM UPDATE: WIESE, DOUG

The Director of the Substance Abuse Program at the Bear River Health Department, Doug Wiese, updated the Council on the Departments work and services. Wiese, reviewed a year end printout of numbers dealing with clients treated and substance being abused.

(See attachment #2)

The substance being most overall abused in the area is alcohol. However, in our youth, Marijuana is the highest and it continues to grow. They are mandated by the Government to give special treatment for single mothers and pregnant women. They are now working with the hospitals Day Spring Program to provide out patient treatment. State funding on certain services is now available, that they haven't had before and they can provide different levels of treatment. There are more male clients than female clients, this is because the male population seems more willing to get treatment than the females. Wiese said that there is still a major substance abuse problem among women that are never treated or reported.

FAIR, COUNTY REPORT: ERICKSON, STEPHEN M.

The County Clerk, Stephen M. Erickson, and who some how has the privilege to manage the County Fair every year since his election to that office (eight years) appeared before the Council to give an annual report of the just concluded 1998 County Fair.

Erickson, reported that the fair was very successful and went on without any major problems. A written memo about the fair was previously sent to the Council.

Board member Yeates moved to adjourn from the Board of Equalization and reconvene the regular Council meeting. It was seconded and carried unanimously.

TV TRANSLATOR: DISCUSSION

Two weeks ago on July 28th, 1998 the Council held a workshop with State TV specialists and different TV Channel representatives to determine a future TV Translator location, with new equipment that will provide better TV reception to the citizens in the County. At the workshop it was suggested that the county invest in more that one TV translator site to provide translator service. Tests have proven that additional sites will provide better TV and make it possible to deliver TV to more homes in the County than with one location. The estimated cost for the change would be around $250,000.00. Chairman Gibbons, said that he has concerns about spending that much money now, especially when we are looking to construct a new county office facility. Councilman Anhder said, that he receives more phone calls because of bad TV than anything else being done in the County. He suggested taking the $250,000.00 out of the nearly, four million dollar fund-balance the County has and establish additional sites. Anhder figures, that it would cost about fifty cents per household based on $100,000.00 valuation, for property tax, in the county to make the change. Executive Lemon said, that we will have to pay maintenance on both locations because of the present contract. This would be around $50,000.00 a year. It was suggested that the $250,000.00 figure be part of the Budget Opening Public Hearing at the next Council meeting on September 8, 1998. Councilman Petersen, recommended that we should have it pinned down on what the cost will actually be and what we are going to get for our dollars. Executive Lemon, will follow up on Petersen's recommendation. The Council will continue the discussion on the TV Translator during the next Council meeting.

RURAL LAND ISSUES: DISCUSSION

The County has been invited to participate with other rural Counties in the State to speak as one voice on rural issues. Some Councilmen questioned the need to join, because the County only has Forest Service land and no BLM land. Chairman Gibbons, asked that we get more of the specifics on what the organization is going to do and what the cost to join is. The Council will continue discussing the matter at the next Council meeting.

YOUTH CORRECTION NEW FACILITY: DISCUSSION

The State is going to build a new Youth Correction Facility on 600 West & 2000 North, in Logan. Executive Lemon told the Council that the state offered local entities the option to hold a Public Hearing on the matter. The County was considering holding the hearing but because the facility is going to be built in Logan City and Logan City will have the Public Hearing, the County will not.

WEBER COUNTY-CACHE COUNTY- POWDER MOUNTAIN AGREEMENT: DISCUSSION

The Council discussed an agreement with Weber County regarding the property taxes received from the Powder Mountain Recreation area located on the boundary between Weber and Cache Counties, East of Ogden. Weber County is providing most of the services to the area. Our County Auditor, Tamra Stones said, that very little tax money is received from them but because Weber County provides the services they want all the taxes. The agreement was addressed as first reading and it will be placed on the next agenda for second reading with some changes.

PARADISE TROUT & BERRY DAYS: INVITATION

The Council was invited to the Paradise Trout and Berry Days event on August 29, 1998.

COUNCIL MEMBER REPORTS

Councilman Pulsipher: Pulsipher reported that the committee to choose a consultant to write the new land use ordinances has been organized. Members come from the Planning Commission and Board of Adjustments as well as Councilman Pulsipher and Executive Lemon. The County-Wide Planner, Mark Teuscher will serve as an advisor.

Pulsipher also reported that a resident from his area is concerned about the present animal or dog ordinance. Bill McCreary, from North of Paradise wants the Ordinance rewritten to provide stronger fines etc.

COUNCIL MEETING MINUTES 08/25/98

Councilman Beck: Beck informed the Council of an invitation to be part of the 2002 Olympic games. They are invited to attend an Olympic Forum to give in put on the games. The Forum will be on September 8 at 1:00 p.m. in the Salt Palace in Salt Lake.

Councilman Anhder: Anhder reported, on a meeting held with the Logan City Solid Waste Department. They are getting a new logo and are going to advertise to get more people to recycle some of their recyclables. Anhder, expressed concern that the money spent to try and reduce the garbage in the land fill by one percent is too much.

ADJOURNMENT

Chairman Gibbons adjourned the meeting at 7:05 p.m..

ATTEST: Stephen M. Erickson

County Clerk

APPROVAL: Darrel L. Gibbons
Council Chairman

THE SENIOR CENTER PHILOSOPHY

The philosophy of the senior center movement is based on these premises: that aging is a normal developmental process; that human beings need peers with whom they can interact and who are available as a source of encouragement and support: and that adults have the right to a voice in determining matters in which they have a vital interest.

In accordance with these premises, senior centers adhere to the following beliefs:

- Older adults, like all people, are individuals with ambitions, capabilities, and creative capacities.
- □ They are capable of continued growth and development.
- They have certain basic needs, including opportunities for relationships and for experiencing a sense of achievement.
- They need both access to sources of information and help for personal and family problems, and the opportunity to learn from individuals coping with similar experiences.
- They have a right to maximum opportunity for involvement in all aspects of a center's decision-making process.

Senior center staffs are obliged to create an atmosphere that acknowledges the value of human life, affirms the dignity and self-worth of the older adult, and maintains a climate of respect, trust, and support. Within this atmosphere, staff creates opportunities for older adults to apply their wisdom, experience, and insight, and to exercise their skills.

As an integral part of the aging network, a center serve community needs, assists other agencies in serving older adults, and provides opportunities for older adults to develop their potential as individuals within the context of the entire community.

DEFINITION OF A SENIOR CENTER

A senior center is a community focal point where older adults come together for services and activities that reflect their experience and skills, respond to their diverse needs and interests, enhance their dignity, support their independence, and encourage their involvement in and with the center and the community.

As part of a comprehensive community strategy to meet the needs of older adults, senior centers offer services and activities within the center and link participants with resources offered by other agencies. Center programs consist of a variety of individual and group service and activities.

The center also serves as a resource for the entire community for information on aging, support for family caregivers, training professional and lay leaders and students, and for development of innovative approaches to addressing aging issues.

FROM:

DATE:

SUBJECT:

COUNTY FAIR ANNUAL REPORT

This memorandum is intended to give a report of the 1998 Cache County Fair. The report will reflect budget numbers and will review needs and concerns of the fair and Rodeo. However the Rodeo is run by a volunteer committee with their own bylaws and budget and is organized as a non profit entity.

The fair began with some criticism from the Poultry Department regarding their show building. They have a legitimate concern because the building gets too hot for the poultry and they have become sick and some have even died. We solved the problem by agreeing to move them out of the building to the East in a breeze way next to their building. Not a bird was lost and all was well. This was merely a temporary solution. We need to solve the problem before next year.

We have a major problem with the electricity and lighting at the Fairgrounds. Breakers were continually being over loaded and power was lost for long periods of time. Some temporary lights were installed by the fairground manger.

Water back flow devises not being installed in some areas of the fairgrounds is a concern. Apparently the water outlets in the buildings are okay but the outlets for irrigation do not have the devises on yet. It was thought that some of the food booths may be using water from an irrigation outlet. After an investigation it was determined that none were and all was well again.

The above-mentioned problems are being addressed by the Willow Park Advisory Board and by the Logan City Parks and Recreation Department. We hope solutions can be... made for future events at the Fairgrounds especially for the 1999 County fair.

We had a great fair, it was well attended and people who attended were rewarded for coming. The weather cooperated, except the last night when it really rained hard. The lights in the Rodeo arena went out for a while but eventually came back on and the Rodeo continued. We were disappointed with the number of Community booths that we had. We have fourteen booth spaces and only six communities were represented. Hyrum City took sweepstake and will represent the County at the State Fair. All exhibits seemed to be a little lower this year except in our youth's departments. They have an increase every year.

The Rodeo was well attended and had outstanding stock and cowboys. They brought in around $30,000.00

Our office sold more than 230 commercial booths bringing in $21,935.00. (see attachment)

The carnival, MidWay West Amusements, out of California were good to work with and we had very little complaint. They paid us $14,986.25.

All our expenditures are not in yet, but we anticipate that we will be within our allocated budget of $41, 800.00.

We appreciate your help and input regarding the County Fair. We are always open for suggestions and want to make the County Fair what it should be and what it should accomplish for the citizens of the County.

County fair refreshes the soul

By Karen Erickson

oni, Jessica, Casi, and Jena leaned over the table that fronted my booth at the Cache County Fair. Beautiful, young, and displaying tanned midriffs, they reverted to childhood as they wrote their names on the white butcher paper that served both as tablecloth and artistic canvas. Gleefully selecting brightly colored crayons from a

Tupperware container, the girls worked to turn their names into artistic calligraphy. Casi sighed as she looked at her efforts: she wore a cast on her right arm and she difficulty had holding the purple crayon, but she gave it her best shot.

I hadn't been to a county fair for over three decades. My memories consisted of cramped crowded dusty arenas, swarms of sweaty humanity, the undefinable smell of "fair food," and hordes of overexcited children. Once upon a time, when I was one of those overexcited kids, I enjoyed the fair. But as I grew older, the crowds became oppressive, carnival rides lost their glamour, and the sticky cotton candy didn't taste as good.

So when I agreed to tend an information booth at the Cache County Fair, I asked the organizer if I needed a parking pass. She told me where to park, but didn't say anything about a parking pass. I asked her if I needed an entry pass. She gave me instructions on how to find the booth, but didn't say anything about an entry pass. Oh well. I figured I could fork over the $15.00 or so it would cost to "volunteer" at the fair.

However, my memories were of fairs in California. The Stanislaus County Fair of thirty-some years ago had parking attendants, gated entries, and security police to maintain the crowds. The Cache County Fair hearkens back to what fairs should be but too often are not. No signs said, "Park here and shuttle to the fair. $5.00." No entry fee. Manageable crowds. And no one inspected my small ice chest for contraband.

My booth was on the grass, a plum location that offered an unimpeded view of the stage where a variety of entertainers sang their hearts out to a largely indifferent audience. Passersby lingered in front of the booths in a quest for shade, and although they tapped their toes to "Eighteen Wheels and a Dozen Roses," they expended little effort in chair, I fished ice cubes from my cooler applause. Remembering my days as a band member, where we played Sousa marches while sweating in heavy uniforms, I applauded whenever my hands weren't distributing crayons and leaflets.

I watched as kids walked by with inflatable bright red lips. Other kids and adults struggled past my booth carrying enormous inflatable aliens in blue, green, and hot-pink. Baby strollers were festooned with white balloons imprinted with red "Cache County Republicans," or blue "USU Alumni Association" slo-

A lovely young girl, about fifteen years old, walked with her grandparents. A bit gawky, as if her long legs were newly sprouted, she was at the age where she should have been embarrassed to be seen with an older couple. Instead, she strolled between them, chatting and smiling. They leaned toward her either to catch every word, every laugh, every nuance, or to form a protective arc between her and the crowds. She talked, listened, laughed. They bent inward, like a pair of parentheses encircling their prized jewel.

A group of lawn-chair toting seniors threaded through throngs of youngsters, ambling across the grass in a quest for shade. Young boys in baggy pants, super-cool sunglasses, and sporting pink faces, smiled at a weary-looking older gentleman wearing red and green plaid shorts and a turquoise tee-shirt. A woman's tee-shirt proclaimed "My son was designed to wrestle." A big dog wearing a multicolored neckerchief towed his master from booth to booth; the dog's leash snaked around the owner's thighs and ankles, and the owner tripped and stumbled behind the dog in an effort to keep up.

As the sun dropped lower in the west and the shade moved away from my and rubbed them over my legs, arms, face, and neck. I grabbed another one and dropped it in my bra. I smiled at passersby, asked kids if they wanted to draw a picture or sign their names on the butcher paper, and empathized with a couple whose grown children use their house as a storage unit.

The music continued, sometimes fighting for ascendancy against the noise of creaking carnival rides, screaming kids, and the livestock auction. A vocal group called Crimson Rose reflected my sentiments when they sang "Bring me two Pina Coladas."

For three whole hours I ignored my half-finished projects, didn't worry about my parents, and forgot to be disgusted with President Clinton. The Cache County Fair was a spa for the soul. Therapy for the psyche. An antidote to cynicism.

And it didn't cost one red cent.
